NATIONAL HIGHWAYS AUTHORITY OF INDIA

NEW DELHI

Preface

World class infrastructure is the key to a globally competitive economy and India's objective of sustained accelerated development can only be achieved through a quantum growth in the infrastructure sector. A good road network is a critical infrastructure requirement for rapid growth as it provides connectivity to remote areas and access to markets, besides opening up backward regions to trade and investments.

The National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) was constituted by an Act of Parliament, namely the National Highways Authority of India Act, 1988. It is responsible for development, maintenance and management of National Highways vested or entrusted to it by the Central Government and for matters connected or incidental thereto. The Authority became operational in February 1995.

Mandate

The National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) is an autonomous agency responsible for development, maintenance and management of National Highways vested or entrusted to it by the Central Government. National Highways are the arterial roads that facilitate rapid movement of passengers and goods across the country. NHAI has been entrusted by the Central Government with 68,747 km out of the total NH length of 1.46 Lakh km. Rapid expansion of passenger and freight traffic makes it imperative to improve the road network in the country. Accordingly, Government of India launched major initiatives to upgrade and strengthen National Highways and improve logistics efficiency through various phases of National Highways Development Project (NHDP), Bharatmala Pariyojana and development of allied assts.

NHDP: Initiated with the approval of NHDP Phase-I in 2000, NHAI was entrusted with the development of GQ and NS-EW under initial phases of NHDP. Strengthening of connectivity to state capitals, district headquarters, widening of existing NHs along with development of expressways and urban decongestion interventions was entrusted to NHAI under the later phases of NHDP.

Phase-I of Bharatmala Pariyojana: Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) approved the Phase I of Bharatmala Pariyojana (BPP-I) for development of 34,800 km of National Highway corridors at an investment of Rs. 5.35 Lakh Crore on 24.10.2017. Components of Bharatmala Pariyojana as approved by CCEA include:

Out of this 30,357 km, NHAI is undertaking the development of 25 high-speed corridors with the total length of 9,124 km E.g., Delhi Mumbai Expressway, Ambala Kotputli corridor & Amritsar Bhatinda Jamnagar corridor.

NH(O): National Highway stretches with high traffic, other than NHDP and BPP-I, have been entrusted by MoRT&H to NHAI for development based on the requirement for upgradation and availability of funds.

Allied Assets: Development of allied assets to enhance logistics efficiency & passenger convenience have been entrusted to NHAI including:
